

Air 1 (107.3 FM) provides me with positive encouraging music that I can listen to during the day. This radio station provides me with something to listen to that won't put me down and will lift me up. If you took Air 1 off the air, it would be very lonely without. It's the only station I listen to and the only station that gives me energy during the day. I believe Air 1 changes lives every day and helps people out with the encouraging music it plays. I think you should keep it on air because it is a very valuable source when your day is going bad.
